

Dear Sir or Madam,

This is a testimony to the magical effect the Traumeel cream, a product of your company, can have.

For about a year there was something wrong with my right leg, it felt heavy and weak, but fortunately it did not prevent use from walking. I have a few treatments by several therapists but this was no improvement.

On August 27 2006 I took a plane from Toronto to Italy and during that flight, while going towards my seat my leg did not support me any more, and I practically fell into the seat. It was painful, but afterwards I could still walk with a degree of difficulty, some days were better than others during my month-long holiday in Italy.

I treated the problem with glucosamine cream, arnica (orally) an elastic bandage around the knee, and therapeutic Touch, a self help modality I learned twenty years ago. Keeping on the right knee was quite painful and the knee was a bit swollen. I feared that soon I would be walking with a cane.

The day after I returned to Canada I happened to pass by a newly opened Health Food Store, filled with supplements, vitamins etc. I went in to look around, told the saleslady that I did not need anything, and wished her success with the new store. I left, but almost close to my car, I turned around to go back to the store, thinking that may-be they sold something to make my leg feel a bit better.

The saleslady recommended Traumeel cream, or Traumeel gel, or the Traumeel drops to be taken orally. I chose the Traumeel cream, and asked how long it would take before I could notice improvement. She thought that it would be about a week.

I applied the cream that same night several times the following day, and again the day after that ... and my leg was totally healed.

It was strong, no more pain while kneeling down, going up a flight of stairs was easy, it was an unbelievable miracle.

A few days later I went back to the Health Food Store to tell them about my good fortune. Indeed they had heard from others that the cream had benefited them, and that is why they had recommended Traumeel products to me. I am still puzzled why the effect of the cream was so quick and so total, how did it happen? (My doctor thinks something in my leg „napped back into place“ by itself)

But I know better and believe that the Traumeel cream is truly a miracle cream.

It will go wherever I go in my cosmetic bag. I am still in awe.

Thank you for great product.
